FAQ

What is a virtual gala?

Our Let's Play Gala is our biggest fundraiser of the year. We raise critical funds for the students at Celebrate the Children, and as our name implies, we have much to celebrate! Celebrate the Children's success is an amazing story of how a dedicated team of teachers, therapists, staff members, parents, and supporters celebrate our children, and we couldn't let this year pass us by.

We have an incredible event lined up with a mix of pre-recorded video and live-stream content that will be streamed through Handbid - virtual event management and online auction software, as well as an online auction. Guests attend online from the comfort of their own home.

What's the theme?

We are using the same theme as last year - a masquerade ball.

Who's the host?

Principal Randy and a Mystery Co-Host

Are you still honoring honorees?

Yes! We are honoring:

Andre Chabanel, CTC Board President - Overwhelming Support

Elizabeth Torres, Ph.D. - Murray G. Osgood Innovation Award

Russell Breninger and the Garden State H.O.G. Chapter - Simon Alexander Award

Will Simon be there?

You bet (virtually)!

Do I dress up?

Some of our guests are dressing up and making an evening of it at home - but it's entirely up to you!

Is it interactive?

Although you can't interact with the hosts during the main event, you'll have an opportunity to participate in our online auction and donation opportunities. Want to be featured in our live show? Share your watch party photos on social media using #CTCletsplaygala or email them to gala@celebratethechildren.org!

We are offering a virtual cocktail hour via zoom prior to the main event. Local expert mixologists will teach our guests how to mix two signature cocktails and one signature mocktail. We will provide you with a list of ingredients before the event. This event is interactive, and you can virtually mingle with other guests, Monica and Lauren, and our honorees. *This is an additional fee.
